BIC Refund Policy

1. Fees are non-refundable after the commencement of the course, or if the student stops attending, leaves the course before completion, or is suspended by the College due to non-attendance, academic, or behavioural misconduct, etc.
2. Nepalese students may claim a refund of the course fees paid (minus an administrative charge of NPR 50,000/-) provided a written notice of cancellation is received by the College at least one month before the course commencement date. If the notice is not received on time, the applicable year's fees will be charged.
3. If a student becomes ill and is forced to withdraw from the course, a refund for the following semester will be provided (NOT the current semester). This will be issued once medical certificates and a certified letter from a licensed doctor have been submitted to the College. Alternatively, a student may defer the rest of the course to a later date, at the discretion of the College.
4. On the student's request and with a recommendation from a Programme Leader, fees may be deferred for the same course commencing at a later date, up to a maximum of one semester.
5. Students shall deposit an amount of NPR 50,000/- as a security deposit, which will be refunded only after graduation. Deductions will be made for any damage to assets, unreturned or damaged books borrowed from the library, or any other traceable damage due to the student's negligence or malicious intent.
6. International students requiring a student visa to enter Nepal may claim a refund of the tuition fees paid (minus the administrative charge of NPR 50,000/-) only if their visa application is unsuccessful and the College is informed about it before the course commencement date. The refund application must include an original copy of the refusal letter from the Nepalese Embassy, copies of all passport pages, and the original admission documents issued by the College. If the College is informed of the refusal after the course commencement date, the applicable year's fees will still be deducted. After the commencement of any semester, the tuition fee for the year is non-refundable, and a visa refusal during the semester entitles the student to a refund of the fees for subsequent years only.
7. If the visa authorities are supplied with fake papers or documents and the visa is denied, no refund will be made by the College.
8. Full fees are refundable if the course is not conducted by the College for any reason.
9. A minimum of 4 weeks is needed for processing refunds.
10. No interest is paid on any refund payments.
11. No refunds are applicable where the student has postponed the commencement of their course.
12. The College reserves the right to withdraw an advertised course or close a class section if enrolment is too low.
13. No refund will be made:
 - If a student has attended any part of the course and then withdraws from the course.
 - If the refund request is submitted more than one year from the date of the initial payment. At the discretion of management, a late request may be considered if the student has previously advised the College (in writing) that they are appealing the refusal of their visa application.To claim a refund of tuition fees, the student or sponsor must meet the following conditions:
 - Advise the College (Programme Leader) in writing of withdrawal from the course or complete the 'withdrawal/deferral programme' form no later than one month before the course start date.
 - Return their student ID card and any other BIC property.
